OUR GUIDE TO CYCLING THE CITY

Feeling adventurous? There are loads of things to see and do in Belfast city centre but, if you'd like to venture a little further, we recommend getting back to nature on one of our beautiful bike paths. Our favourite is the Lagan and Lough Cycle Way, also known as the Lagan towpath. From the city centre you'll cycle through the University Quarter, where you can check out Queen's University and Botanic Gardens, and then on to the Lagan towpath that meanders through meadows and forest parks alongside the Lagan canal.

You can stop for a breather at the Lock Keeper's Inn near Shaw's Bridge before continuing your journey past the National Trust's Minnowburn Beeches and Sir Thomas and Lady Dixon Park. End your journey at Hilden Brewery - Ireland's oldest independent brewery. Take a tour of the brewery or just enjoy some tasty craft beers and delicious food. Keep an eye out for the Hilden Beer and Music Festival which takes place every year towards the end of August.

Then cycle back or catch a train from Hilden to Belfast City Centre. The Lagan and Lough Cycle Way is mostly flat and it is roughly 11 miles from Belfast City Centre to Hilden Brewery.
